ALL SOCIETIES MADE INTO ONE

Farmers Form a New Organization

FOR MARKETING OF TOBACCO

"Farmers Tobacco Association" Is to Be Formed on February 2.

WERE IMPELLED INTO ACTION

The Owensboro Messenger of Sunday says:

All existing tobacco organizations were declared to be out of existence and a new organization of farmers created Saturday afternoon at the court house. The Green River Association, one of the oldest of the organizations, and the one that has maintained itself through all the various troubles that these institutions have passed through recently, had called a district meeting.

President W. G. Riney called the session to order. He immediately recognized Henry S. Berry, who offered the following resolutions for consideration:

"Whereas, the tobacco growers of the Green River section, being totally unorganized, are experiencing conditions that, if not remedied, will result in bankruptcy to the growers and general decline in all farm values:

"It was with a general feeling of skepticism that we were forced to accept the loose leaf floor system of selling tobacco. For the last two seasons all other ways of selling tobacco have been abandoned. The loose leaf system has been weighed and found woefully wanting. In the first place, practically all of the Green River district has been forced to come to Owensboro, thereby creating a great congestion. The loose leaf floors are crowded from day to day. Tobacco almost without exception, is selling at a price below the cost of production. The cost of selling, which the farmer must pay, is enormous. It now takes at least a week from the time the farmer puts his tobacco on the wagon at home, until he gets his check. Often during this delay, the farmer's tobacco damages in the basket on the loose leaf floor, thereby causing it to sell at a lower price on account of damage, caused by the slow process of the loose leaf floor. Practically all of the outlying receiving points are closed and these farmers are confronted with an enormous expense in marketing their tobacco. These conditions have become unbearable. Tobacco growing has become unprofitable. A cry has gone up over the land for relief, and that the tobacco growers get together in one compact organization. Therefore be it

Resolved, That appreciating our helpless, unorganized condition, and appreciating the fact that battling singly we are helpless, but organized into one body we are all powerful, a fact appreciated by the buying end; "Therefore, be it the sense of this body that we ask that all the old associations disband, terminate their existence as tobacco organizations, and let us turn this meeting into a mass meeting of tobacco growers. Let us proceed to organize, to elect a temporary chairman and take steps to form a new organization for the handling of the tobacco grown in the Green River district."

Short discussion of Mr. Berry's resolution was had by various persons present, when it was adopted by a rising vote. For a temporary chairman, Henry S. Berry was named and elected by the large number of farmers present.

Numerous names of men were suggested for temporary secretary, all of whom declined to serve. There was a general tendency on the part of those connected with any of the old organizations to keep away from the new one. The name of S. B. Berry was put in nomination. He also declined at first. He had at one time been a member of the A. S. of E., a former secretary of the Green River Association, and in the employ of the American Tobacco Company.

Failing to secure a secretary Mr. Berry's name was again put in nomination and he was drafted into serving.

W. G. Riney, president of the Green River Tobacco Growers' Association, following the adoption of Mr. Berry's resolution, made a statement in which he endorsed the action of the mass meeting. He said that the Green River was at present heartily in favor of forming a major organization, and it stood ready to turn over to it what money the Green River had in its treasury.

R. H. Ford, who was recently elected president of the Green River, to succeed Mr. Riney to take office on April 1, endorsed this action of Mr. Riney fully. Out of the 500 farmers present at the meeting there were men present from all parts of Daviess county and men who had formerly belonged to all tobacco organizations.

Chairman Berry asked the farmers present to extend to all of the officers of all former organizations a rising vote of thanks for their work. This was done amid cheers.

The new organization, by a unanimous vote of those at the convention, was given the name of the Farmers' Tobacco Association. Following, short talks by L. N. Robertson, leading Equity representative; John Potts, of Thurston; P. D. Maddox, of Livia; Esquire J. W. Ware, of Whitesville; W. R. Griffith, of Brown's Valley; Chairman Berry was empowered to name a committee of farmers to formulate by-laws and constitution, to be presented at a meeting to be held on February 2 next, to be held at Owensboro at 10 o'clock in the morning at the court house, for the purpose of forming a permanent organization. He appointed L. C. Winstead, S. R. Ewing, Fred Burns, Ben Head and S. B. Lee, Mr. Berry is ex-officio a member.

Resolutions Adopted. The following was offered as a resolution and adopted without dissent:

First—Name, The Farmers' Tobacco Association.

Second—Members, all tobacco growers in the Green River district, who obligate themselves to pool or to have their tobacco controlled by a representative committee, elected by the tobacco growers of the district.

Third—Officers, The association shall have a president, vice president, secretary-treasurer and a board of control, to be elected in a way the by-laws provide.

Fourth—By-laws, prescribing the duties of officers and members and workings of this association shall be made and accepted in a way hereafter provided for.

Fifth—The purpose of the association is to co-operate in selling tobacco and to protect its members from the concentrated buying interests and to open marketing places throughout the district, and to advance the interests of its members financially, morally and socially.

Sixth—It shall be the further duty of this association to abide by the laws of this Commonwealth and to assist the officers of the law to enforce same, thereby assuring all equal protection.

Seventh—That this convention now elect or appoint a committee on by-laws, the by-laws to be in accord with these resolutions, and to call a meeting to adopt, amend or reject same, said meeting to be in Owensboro, not later than February 2, 1916, asking the several counties to send delegates.

Eighth—There should be some plan for a schoolhouse organization with officers.

Buyers Mullenberg Pool.

Greenville, Ky., Jan. 22.—W. M. Martin, a local tobaccoist, this week closed a deal with the Mullenberg County Society of Equity by which he became the purchaser of the pooled crop of tobacco. It is estimated that there are 2,200,000 pounds of the weed in the pool and while the price will depend on the grades, there is a guaranteed price of an average of 5 cents all around. This is half a cent less than the market for last year. Deliveries will begin at once.

Gizzard Full of Wealth.

Princeton, Ind., Jan. 24.—This community has produced something better than the goose that laid the golden eggs, in a hen belonging to George Tichenor, which was an industrious scratcher and layer, but would eat eggs. The family decided to eat her. In the gizzard fifteen inches of gold chain, a diamond ring valued at $125 and a pearl were found.

WILSON IS TO TOUR COUNTRY

And Speak On National Preparedness.

HE IS TO LEAVE WASHINGTON

Next Friday Night, January 28, and Will Return February 4.

HE MAY COME TO KENTUCKY

Washington, Jan. 21.—Final plans for President Wilson's forthcoming trip through the Middle West to speak on national preparedness, approved to-night, include stops at Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Chicago, Des Moines, Topeka and Kansas City. A tentative itinerary drawn up included St. Louis, St. Joseph and Davenport, but these cities have been eliminated and Milwaukee and Topeka substituted.

On his Middle Western trip the President will leave Washington Friday night, January 28, and will return February 4 in time for the judicial dinner at the White House. He will speak at a day meeting in Pittsburgh January 29; in Cleveland the same night; at a day meeting in Milwaukee, January 31; in Chicago at night; at a night meeting in Des Moines, February 1; at a day meeting in Topeka, February 2, and in Kansas City the same night. He will spend Sunday, January 30, in Cleveland.

In addition to the formal addresses in these seven cities, the President is expected to speak briefly at several cities and towns through which his train will pass. The national defense plans of the Administration will be his principal topic, but he probably will take up other subjects, including the European and Mexican situations.

The President sent to the War and Navy departments to-day for information concerning the army and navy to be used in the preparation of his speeches.

As soon as the President finally approved the itinerary to-night messages were sent the friends and organizations extending the invitations to the cities chosen and preparations were begun immediately for the series of meetings. In most of the cities business associations will arrange the meetings. If present plans are carried out, no members of the Cabinet will accompany the President.

In the President's second trip, about the middle of February, in addition to going as far West as Denver, he is expected to visit several Southern cities, including probably Birmingham, and at least one point in North Carolina.

Hopes To Visit Kentucky.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Representative Swager Sherley, a caller at the White House this morning, urged President Wilson to deliver one of his national preparedness speeches at Louisville next month. He told the President the Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce of Louisville hope he may find it convenient to visit Kentucky in the near future.

The President assured Mr. Sherley that he appreciated the invitation and that if possible he will include Louisville in the itinerary of one of his proposed trips. In the event the President accepts the invitation Senator James and Mr. Sherley are planning to accompany him to Louisville.

Going Before Public.

Washington, Jan. 21.—The President is giving polite notice to Congress that he is ready for a test of strength with it before the people. In a letter to Chairman Carter Glass, of the House Banking and Currency Committee, declining an invitation extended by Mr. Glass in behalf of the Congressman's city, Lynchburg, Va., to deliver an address there before a State charities convention, the President says:

"It goes mighty hard to say that I cannot respond affirmatively to the very attractive invitation to visit Lynchburg, but I want frankly to tell you just why it seems to me impossible. I do not think that Congress quite realizes the genuine demand of the country for an adequate plan of preparation for national defense. I feel that it is my duty to explain this matter to the country and summon its support, and that I ought to devote my whole energy without turning aside to the business of this session in which I wish to be of assistance in every possible and legitimate way."

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 22.—The bodies of the victims of the Santa Ysabel massacre, which took place January 10, were horribly mutilated, and several must have suffered terribly before death put an end to their tortures, according to a detailed report of Dr. F. E. Miller, of El Paso. Dr. Miller made an examination of each body to determine ante and post mortem wounds and causes of death. The report was made to a representative of the State Department. The report shows that some of the victims were shot many times, even after death. Soft-nosed bullets made terrible wounds.

AMERICANS TORTURED BY MEXICAN BANDITS

Several of the men were stabbed or slashed with sabers or machetes, both before and after they died. Sword bayonets also were used by the bandits, C. R. Watson, the leader of the mining men, being thrust through the body after death, and Alexander Hall dying of a bayonet stab in the neck.

In at least four cases the Americans were clubbed and beaten with a crowbar or rifle barrel.

BIBLICAL HISTORY CITY CAPTURED BY RUSSIANS

London, Jan. 22.—Hamadan, which the Russian army operating in Persia has occupied, figures in Biblical as well as early Grecian history. It was the ancient Ecbatana, the treasure city captured and plundered by Alexander the Great, and it appears in the Book of Esther as Shushan, where Ahasuerus, who "reigned from India even into Ethiopia," gave way to the caprices of Vashti and was induced to relent by the attraction of Esther.

At Hamadan pious Jews still point out the tombs of Mordecai and Esther, which stand in a wooden-domed building in the center of the town. There is no doubt that the two wooden sarcophagi shown there are ancient, but there is some question of their being what tradition ascribes. They bear Hebrew inscriptions, one said to be of A. D. 557 and the other 841 A. D. Near the city a large mound is pointed out as the site of the palace of Ahasuerus. A crudely carved lion, on the site, is the subject of much legend also.

Five miles from Hamadan, in a mountain gorge, is a famous stone with inscriptions in the Persian, Median and Babylonian languages, which seems to have been placed there by Xerxes. These inscriptions supplied the key that enabled the cuneiform inscriptions at Nineveh to be deciphered. The natives believe treasure lies buried under the stone.

A COUNTERFEIT $5 NOTE IN CIRCULATION

Local banks and money handlers in general are in receipt of information that the United States Government has announced the discovery of a new counterfeit $5 national bank note. Its description is as follows: It is on the Wallace National Bank, Wallace, Idaho; series of 1902-1903; check letter omitted; charter number 9134; bank number 1757; treasury number M216698A; portrait of Benjamin Harrison.

The counterfeit is said to have been issued from poorly executed zinc etched plates on two pieces of paper between which a few silk threads have been distributed. A more detailed description of the counterfeit is unnecessary, as it is so poorly executed as to be readily detected.

Insured Americans Killed.

That many Americans have lost their lives in the European war is shown by the seventy-first annual report published by the New York Life Insurance Company. During last year 409 policy holders were killed on field of battle; 448 were killed by accident, which includes Lusitania losses; 707 died of cancer; 772 died of pneumonia, and 950 died of tuberculosis.

MEXICANS KILL KENTUCKY MAN

While He Was Doing a Friendly Errand.

A VICTIM OF CATTLE THIEVES

Had Crossed the Border Unarmed To Locate a Widow's Stolen Cattle.

BODY RECOVERED FOR BURIAL

El Paso, Jan. 22.—Bernardo and Federico Duran, Mexican cattle thieves, have confessed to the killing of Bert Akers, a Kentuckian, yesterday at San Lorenzo, Chihuahua, just below the boundary line, and will be executed to-morrow morning, according to an announcement made to-night by Andreas Garcia, Mexican Consul here.

"The Durans confessed their crime, were sentenced to death to-day and a firing squad will execute the penalty," said Mr. Garcia.

Akers was shot and killed by the Mexicans yesterday near San Lorenzo, Chihuahua, a few miles south of the border, whither he had gone with Douglas Downs, another American, and Juan Barrios, a Mexican detective, to recover some stolen cattle. Downs escaped and brought news of Akers' death to the border.

Bert L. Akers' body was brought to this side of the river this afternoon for burial. He came here recently from Horse Cave, Ky., and purchased one of the finest dairy and alfalfa farms in the lower Rio Grande Valley. He had stocked it with blooded cattle and had recently built a farmhouse on it for himself and family. He was a neighbor of Gen. Felipe Angeles, the famous Villa General of artillery, who also has a big dairy in the Rio Grande Valley.

Akers was killed while doing a gratuitous service for a widow, Mrs. M. Murphy, who lived adjoining his place. Her milk cows had been stolen and Akers offered to go across and locate them. Unarmed, he went to the Mexican side after noon with Downs and was shot down as he approached the home of the Duran gang of bandits. Downs escaped by hiding in the brush.

Further Gets Message.

Horse Cave, Ky., Jan. 22.—Bert Akers, who was slain on the Mexican border yesterday, was a son of P. D. Akers, a prominent farmer near this place. Young Akers went to Mexico seven years ago from his home here and is 28 years of age. His father received a telegram of the killing this afternoon and immediately wired for full particulars. The Akers are well known throughout this section of the State. Bert Akers was a young man who had a reputation of being quiet and industrious. The news of his tragic death has caused much feeling throughout Hart and Warren counties.

Murder Avenged.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 23.—Bernardo and Federico Duran, the Mexican cattle thieves condemned to die by the Carranza authorities for the killing of Bert Akers, a Kentuckian, at San Lorenzo, a few miles below the international boundary, Friday, were executed at daylight in the cemetery at Juarez. The body of Akers was interred here late to-day.

The Duran brothers died cursing Americans. Bernardo appealed for mercy on behalf of his brother, Federico.

"It is unjust to kill two of us for one American," he said. "It is giving two eyes for one tooth. I am willing to die, because I killed the Gringo, but my brother ought to be allowed to live."

The bullets of the firing squad killed Federico, but Bernardo was still conscious after he fell and the officers commanding the firing squad gave him the "mercy shot" through the head.

Calhoun To the Rescue.

The people of Calhoun came to the rescue of the flood-stricken citizens at Rumsey Wednesday morning when a donation of $200 was made up within a short time, after it became a settled fact that there was no exaggeration of the reported need of our neighbors across Green river. Capt. W. G. Houghland has charge of the fund, which will be used in purchasing supplies, etc.

A barge of coal was started from Evansville Wednesday for Rumsey, under order of County Clerk John R. Priest. It was believed that the approach of warmer weather would thaw out the large ice floes over much of the country in distress about Rumsey, and allow provisions to be taken to the marooned people much more easily.—[Calhoun Star.

POSSUM HUNTERS GET FIVE-YEAR SENTENCES

Greenville, Ky., Jan. 22.—The Muhlenberg Circuit Court adjourned Friday until Monday, having caught up with the docket. Before court adjourned, however, sentence was passed upon O. R. Knight, Edgar Knight and George Struman, convicted of banding and confederating together, each being sentenced to serve not less than four years and 264 days, and not more than five years. Each when sentenced protested his innocence and Struman gave as an additional reason as to why he should not be sentenced that he had a wife and two small children who needed his assistance. The court remarked that none of the reasons given was valid and sentence was pronounced.

Nelson Price was also sentenced from two to five years for robbery. Cam Myers, two years for horse stealing and Harry Scott, one year for housebreaking.

The grand jury adjourned yesterday after returning seventy-six indictments for various offenses. Thirty of these indictments charged violations of the liquor laws and about ten or twelve were against the Southern Express Company and the American Express Company, charged in the offense of furnishing liquors to minors. It is charged that they delivered on different occasions intra-State shipments of liquors to persons under twenty-one years of age.

WILL MAKE ALCOHOL FOR DYE-TEXTILE INDUSTRIES

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 22.—An announcement was made here that the Glenmore Distilleries Company, of Owensboro, of which James Thompson, of James Thompson & Bro., of Louisville, is President, shortly will embark in the manufacture of alcohol for use in the distillation of liquid dyes.

The demand for dyes for coloring yarns and all sorts of fabrics has been greatly increased by the European war since the importation of dyes from Germany has been cut off entirely, and it is said now the industry offers huge profits.

The Glenmore Company is installing special machinery and hopes to begin operations in March.

APPEAL TO WASHINGTON FOR FLOODED RUMSEY

Washington, Jan. 21.—Efforts to obtain relief for flood sufferers at Rumsey, Ky., where high water has driven residents from their homes and inundated the town, were made to-day by Representative D. H. Kincheloe, who received an appeal for aid from Glover Carey, of Calhoun, member of the Kentucky Legislature from McLean county. Mr. Kincheloe sought aid for his constituents at the War Department, but could obtain no relief, as the flood situation is of too local a nature. He then took up the matter with the American Red Cross.

France After Lumber.

New Orleans, Jan. 20.—The lumber industry of the United States is coming in for a share of the tremendous business stimulated by the war in Europe. The French Government is now asking bids for prices on 52,000,000 feet of Southern yellow pine for the erection of 10,000 houses, which the Government itself plans to erect in Northern France, immediately following the end of the war. The specifications demand that the lumber be so cut and prepared that the least amount of labor will be required in erecting the houses. These specifications include 40,000 window frames complete and 20,000 door frames. It is understood that the lumber is desired for immediate delivery.

WORTHY TRIBUTE TO ROBT. E. LEE

The Hero Of "Century Of Centuries."

A MAN OF TYPE ABOVE GRANT

A Brave Southern General Whose Deeds Will Never Forsake Memory.

SOLDIERS LOVED HIM DEARLY

Last Wednesday was the birthday anniversary of Gen. Robert E. Lee, and in commemoration of the event, the Louisville Times published the following worthy tribute to his memory, contributed by the undersigned:

When Lee Met Grant.

Forth from its scabbard never hand
Drew sword from stain so free;
Nor purer sword led braver band,
Nor braver bled for a brighter land,
Nor brighter land had cause so grand
Nor cause a chief like Lee.

There are various lines of meeting—mental, sentimental and physical. On the two first lines Lee never met Grant at all. He soared so far above Grant that the latter never moved even in a parallel course. They began life with their backs together and got farther apart to the end. In all divine attributes which form the Hero of the Century of all centuries, Robert E. Lee, stands first. Ulysses S. Grant was the typical representative of brute force. He finally wore Lee out as a rough millstone may grind a diamond to powder.

It is almost impossible to say where Lee met Grant at points of personal contact. During the early years of the Civil War he put so many leaders of the Federal army out of commission that it makes the head swim to think of it. McClelland, McDowell, Hooker, Burnside, Banks, Pope and a few lesser lights went out like snuffing out so many tallow dips. He had invaded Maryland and Pennsylvania, where he won battles, and failed at the Gettysburg of Gettysburg, before meeting Grant later when his forces had been reduced to a handful in comparison. "On to Richmond" was the watchword and reply of the entire North, till, overwhelmed by numbers, Richmond fell and Lee retreated south to Lynchburg and Appomattox, where he was surrounded by the myrmidons of conquest.

At Gettysburg, as everywhere else, Gen. Lee displayed the highest qualities of a man. He had ordered Longstreet with his corps to attack the enemy at 1 p. m. that fatal July day, 1863. That tardy commander waited till 4 p. m. before moving. As, late from his brave assault, Gen. George B. Pickett's division came reeling back from the breastworks, beaten and blood-stained, the great commander was there to comfort and to cheer.

"It's all my fault—it's all my fault! General, I am sorry to see you wounded—it's all my fault. Colonel, I am sorry to see you suffer. Captain, it's all my fault."

And so with words of sympathy and self-blame, down to the heroic privates in the ranks.

"It's all my fault!" But the god of battles knew it was not his fault, and so does the world—and history.

Was there ever a man like Lee? What soldier, North or South, has not known army commanders, corps, division, brigade and even regimental officers to openly impart the blame to some brother officer for the loss of a battle? It was more common during our great war than reciprocal commendation.

His soldiers loved him as a man and a leader with a devotion unequalled in all the annals of time. When he rode down the lines at rest, on either side the way, every soldier would rise to his feet, hat in hand, to exclaim: "Here comes Mr. Lee!" As he uncovered his head and bowed in acknowledgment the response would ring: "God bless that head! God bless that great head and cover it in the hour of battle!"

Leo certainly never met Grant while the latter was receiving like distinction from his own army!

It is conceded that the terms of surrender at Appomattox were generous; at the same time he was as happy to quit, as he well might be, for he had tried Southern mettle before.

It seems to have escaped the conception of the historians, but Appomattox was Lee's greatest victory—his victory as military chieftain, as patriot and man. No one but a hero would have surrendered—any other would have fought to the last ditch. The conflict would have degenerated ed into deplorable guerrilla warfare. Gen. Lee knew that the whole South had its eyes on him and expected a final triumph.

He called his leading subordinates and explained that their little army was completely surrounded by five or six to one. "How many of the enemy do you think you could cut your way through?" he asked of the intrepid Gen. John B. Gordon, of Georgia.

"Gen. Lee," was the reply, "I can cut my way through as many Yankees as you can place between here and the Gulf of Mexico."

"Gen. Gordon," Lee replied with a sad smile, "the war is over. I will no longer see the useless slaughter of such heroic men."

What a burden he felt upon his great heart in laying down his sword at the feet of the conqueror. It was the first and only time Lee ever met Grant in personal contact. Lee's farewell address to his heart-broken, tattered soldiers is a classic—a model for all time. With a heavy heart, back through his native Virginia home, through valleys laid waste by vandals—valleys that "a crow couldn't fly over without carrying its rations"—went back to resume teaching young men and their children who had carried him to his final victory to a fame immortal which shall outshine the stars.

Down with the cowardly thought which would suggest us lost the cause upheld by Lee and Davis. The single example of the Southern Confederacy is an example to all the nations of the sin-stained and blood-stained earth. No spot was ever found on her proud escutcheon. In the words of an English poet: "No nation rose so pure and fair, Or fell so free from crime."

C. E. MERRILL.

UNDERSEA MILK CARRIER SUGGESTED BY AMERICA

New York, January 20.—That it would be entirely feasible to have a submarine merchantman carry milk to the babies in the central empires was the opinion given today by Lieutenant Commander Craft, of the New York navy yard, to the Citizens' Committee for Food Shipments.

"If the submarine were constructed for the purpose," said Lieutenant Commander Craft, "there is no scientific reason why it could not make a voyage across the Atlantic with a cargo. The idea of a commercial submarine for blockade running is new, but practicable."

Dr. Edmund von Mach, Executive Chairman, declared the committee was determined to get milk into Germany, Austria-Hungary and Russian Poland, even if a submarine had to be built for that purpose.

BROTHER AND SISTER PLAY CONFIDENCE GAME

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Miss Lodavine Miller and her brother, J. Marion Miller, a lawyer, to-day were found to be guilty of operating a confidence game. The crime is punishable by imprisonment from one to ten years.

Both were granted their liberty on bonds pending the outcome of arguments for a new trial, set for February 11, 1919.

The Millers were charged with swindling Thomas F. Foulkes, formerly a farmer of Danbury, Iowa, out of $11,312 and two farms, valued at $40,000. It was alleged that Foulkes gradually transferred his property to Miss Miller under promise of marriage until he had nothing left and had to go to work as a farm hand.

This was the second trial of the case. The Millers were convicted four years ago, but appealed and were granted new trials.

How To Cure Colds.
Avoid exposure and drafts. Eat right. Take Dr. King's New Discovery. It is prepared from Pine Tar, healing balsams and mild laxatives. Dr. King's New Discovery kills and expels the cold germs, soothes the irritated throat and allays inflammation. It heals the mucous membrane. Search as you will, you cannot find a better cough and cold remedy. Its use over 45 years is a guarantee of satisfaction.

Whip Destroys Eyesight.

Paris, Ky., Jan. 22.—Luther Rice, a wealthy farmer, who resides on the Clintonville pike, near Paris, met with an unfortunate accident this afternoon. He was driving cattle on his farm and in cracking a blacksnake whip, was struck in the eye with the end of the whip. The eyeball was burst and the sight destroyed.

EQUITY SOCIETY CONDEMNS BOARD

Controlling - Owensboro Tobacco Market.

IT IS ACCUSED OF VIOLATING

The Law Against Restraint Of Trade By Its Rules Of Conduct.

THE OBJECTIONABLE SECTIONS

The Owensboro Messenger of last Wednesday says:

Following the special district meeting of the American Society of Equity, held at the courthouse on Tuesday morning, resolutions were adopted by the assembled farmers denouncing in strong language the present situation in the tobacco market and calling on the commonwealth's attorney to investigate, the Owensboro Tobacco Board of Trade, which recently dissolved.

Certain sections of the constitution and by-laws of the board of trade were incorporated into the resolution. It was claimed by the members of the Equity society that the organization was formed in restraint of trade and in violation of the laws. The resolution as prepared by F. M. Humphries and S. H. Robertson, a committee appointed for that purpose, is as follows:

We, your committee appointed on January 13, for the purpose of investigating conditions relative to the tobacco markets, and the cause and causes for said conditions, beg leave to report that we find on investigation that an organization or a combination of the buyers and warehousemen of Owensboro has been formed, which, from sections of by-laws and constitution of said organization as cited below, indicates very clearly that said organization was organized in restraint of trade.

First—We find from said document that this organization is known as the Owensboro Tobacco Board of Trade, and its principal office is in Owensboro, Ky.

Second—Section 24, provides under a penalty of $10 for the first and $25 for the second offense, that no spectator is allowed to approach nearer than two baskets to the one being sold.

Third—Article 28, says: No member of this association shall buy tobacco privately after it has come to the premises of the warehouse, or before or after it has been offered and bid on, and members of this association shall only be in open competition on the regular sales.

Fourth—Article 30—None but members of this association shall be allowed to buy tobacco on the loose leaf floors of the warehousemen who are members of this association.

Fifth—Article 32—No buyer or other warehouseman, a member of this association, shall be permitted to in any way dissatisfy the sellers of tobacco under a penalty of $10 for each offense.

Sixth—Article 36—The warehouses shall not sell less than 180 nor more than 240 baskets per hour.

Seventh—Article 43—Fees and dues shall be $40.

We, your committee, would further report that the public prices at Owensboro, published in the newspapers, are doing the tobacco growers of the Green River district a great harm in "that the high prices paid for tobacco on the loose leaf floors are published and low prices ignored" and, from said publication of high prices farmers are led to believe the conditions of the market are much better than they really are, and a rush is made to the market on the strength of quoted high prices, and the farmer meets with disappointment.

In view of the foregoing reports, we, your committee, would recommend that the convention take such action as will give the tobacco growers of the Green River district all needed relief.

After much discussion, most of which was led by S. B. Lee, the following resolution offered by Frank Moseley, was adopted: "The committee just reported is requested to lay their findings before the prosecuting attorney of this district, and request him, if in his judgment, there has been any violation of the law by the buyers and warehousemen, to proceed at once to have such violators punished."

An Alibi For Nicotine.
Laboratory work at the Paris Medical College indicates that tobacco smoking does injure the heart, but not, as generally supposed, on account of the nicotine present.

Tobacco, with various proportions of nicotine, was used in the tests, and the effect on the heart was the same. Oak leaves were found to produce very much the same result as tobacco, and the conclusion reached was that the harmful effects are due to products of combustion contained in smoke of widely different origin.—[Chicago Journal.]

SO "POOR" IS HE, HE SELLS HIS TROUSERS!

"That book agent's here to see you again," said Abraham Ablowitz's stenographer.

"Tell him I'm not in," replied Mr. Ablowitz, a lawyer at No. 261 Broadway.

"But he saw you come in," explained the typist.

"Then send him in," explained the attorney, "and I'll get rid of him forever."

Isidor Feurst entered and began to discourse of the excellent qualities of an encyclopedia. The lawyer, who comes to business daily in an eight-passenger car, said:

"Feurst, I've told you a dozen times I don't want to buy an encyclopedia. I'm too poor. I'd sell the trousers I'm wearing to get hold of a few dollars."

"What do you want for them?" the book agent asked.

"Ten dollars," replied the lawyer. "You're on," said the book agent, "take 'em off."

Ablowitz, having an excellent eye for geschäft, took off the trousers and handed them to the book agent. Then he locked the door, told the stenographer to tell clients to wait, and tried to call up his home by telephone.

It seems the house telephone was out of order. In consequence of which he was a prisoner in his private office from 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning until 7:30 o'clock last night, when his wife learned of his predicament and sent him another pair of trousers.—[New York World.]

JANE ADDAMS NO LONGER ROOSEVELT SUPPORTER

Washington, Jan. 22.—"I can no longer follow Col. Roosevelt because of the stand he has taken on preparedness," declared Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, President of the Woman's Peace Party, before the House Military Affairs Committee to-day. Miss Addams was one of the founders of the Progressive Party.

"The Colonel is willing to fight at the drop of the hat," she said, "and far be it from me to defend him."

Committeemen asked Miss Addams if she had not supported Roosevelt in his last campaign, and then called attention to his recent utterance on the need of preparedness.

"He was not talking like this then," Miss Addams replied. "There was nothing of the sort in our platform. It is my sober judgment that he does not speak for my large body of people."

Miss Addams endorsed the policy of President Wilson in maintaining peace with foreign nations.

Sees With Rabbit's Eye.

Sandusky, Ohio, January 22.—Daniel Barchi, 44 years old, an inmate of the County Infirmary, totally blind for many years, saw to-day through a rabbit's eye. The eye of the rabbit was transplanted ten days ago by a specialist who knew the man a number of years and took pity on him.

Lame back may come from overwork, cold settled in the muscles of the back or from disease. In the two former cases the right remedy is Ballard's Snow Liniment. It should be rubbed in thoroughly over the affected part. The relief will be prompt and satisfactory. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam.

PRINCIPAL CAUSE OF IMMORALITY

Is the Pinching Effect Of Poverty.

A MINIMUM WAGE IS URGED

Say 65 Per Cent. Of Fallen Girls Come From Domestic Service.

RECOMMENDATIONS ARE MADE

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22.—Poverty is the principal cause of immorality, minimum wage for girls and women should be $8 a week, and unregulated conditions of domestic employment render the home, in many cases, a breeding place of commercialized vice, according to the Illinois Senate White Slave Investigating Committee's report, made public to-night.

Thousands of girls, it says, are forced to lead immoral lives "because of the sheer inability to keep body and soul together on the low wages they receive." The system of domestic employment in America is condemned in positive terms.

"Unregulated conditions of domestic employment, uncertain hours, absence of definite social status and lack of creative opportunities render the home in many cases for the women servants a breeding place of immorality," says the report.

Investigations disclosed that more women of the underworld fell into dishonor from domestic employment than from any other work. Of 181 girls sent to the State Training School at Geneva, Ill., who had worked for a wage previous to commitment, the committee found that 115, or 63.55 per cent, had been engaged in domestic service.

Eight dollars a week is fixed by the committee as the least amount that will meet the necessary items of a bare living for a girl employed in a large city. The report says wages were found to be discouragingly short of this figure.

Attention is called to testimony taken by the committee "of wages running as low as $2 a week; of foremen who profanely abuse girls in short dresses; of a manager who found his factory besieged with the agents of professional white slavery."

The report says there can be no disagreement as to the effects on the young woman of the alternate drinking and dancing as practiced in many fashionable restaurants.

The commission found that the highest standard of morals exists among the girls in the high schools, colleges and universities of the State.

The committee makes the following recommendations:

Enactment of minimum wage law.

Repeal of social reform laws falling into disuse, and strict enforcement of all others.

Encouragement of uniform State social legislation.

Improvements of conditions for girls in domestic service.

Establishment of industrial schooling for reformed women.

Extension of vocational education.

Abolition of the "fining" system in the treatment of immoral women.

Registration of minor boys and girls in employment.

Prohibition of printing in newspapers of details of Court cases involving moral lapses.

Creation of a State Athletic Commission for the encouragement of healthful pastimes.

The Committee's report concludes an investigation that began in August, 1913, and covered extensive inquiries into conditions existing in Chicago, Springfield, Peoria, Alton, East St. Louis and several other Illinois cities. Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara was Chairman of the committee and led in its activities.

THE TENNESSEE LIQUOR HOUSES ARE HARD HIT

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 22.—Judge McCall, in an opinion handed down here, makes it impossible for any wholesale liquor house to carry on a business in Memphis and West Tennessee unless it operates under the protection of officers acting in violation of the Tennessee State prohibition laws. The opinion was the result of a suit filed by Laughter & Fisher, Memphis wholesale whiskey dealers, claiming to be conducting a legitimate interstate business.

City officials had closed the firm, charging a violation of State laws in that they retailed. Judge McCall issued a temporary restraining order and dissolved it to-day, holding that the Webb-Kenyon Federal law was passed to prohibit liquor being shipped into dry territory and that when a wholesaler did receive such shipment in dry territory and undertook to resell from his place of business, he could not come under the protection of the interstate commerce law. He held that any liquor shipped into Tennessee was, under the Webb-Kenyon act, a violation of Tennessee laws and the receivers of the liquor, if they resold it, were subject to State indictment and could not be protected by Federal interstate commerce laws.

WHO AM I?

Colonel George W. Burr, commandant at the Rock Island arsenal, has had the following "sermonette" placarded in all the shops there and it is an appeal which is directed to every one:

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world.

I have destroyed more men than in all the world.

I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns.

I steal in the United States alone over $300,000,000 each year.

I spare no one, and find my victims among the rich and poor alike; the young and the old; the strong and the weak; widows and orphans know me.

I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from the turning of a grindstone to the moving of every train.

I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage-earners a year.

I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not.

I am relentless, I am everywhere; in the home, on the street, in the factory, at the railroad crossings and on the sea.

I bring sickness, degradation and death and yet few seek to avoid me.

I destroy, crush and maim; I give nothing, but take all.

I am your worst enemy.

I AM CARELESSNESS.

Bad Cold Quickly Broken Up.

Mrs. Martha Wilcox, Gowanda, N. Y., writes: "I first used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy about 8 years ago. At that time I had a hard cold and coughed most of the time. It proved to be just what I needed. It broke up the cold in a few days, and the cough entirely disappeared. I have told many of my friends of the good I received through using this medicine, and all who have used it speak of it in the highest terms." Obtainable everywhere.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY REPORT

A prehistoric sea, or arm of the ocean, which extended from the Gulf of Mexico far up into New York State, together with the early animal life of this sea, is described in an interesting manner by the United States Geological Survey in reporting to a correspondent on a rock sample. It says:

"The rock existed very long ago, many million years ago. In what geologists call the Devonian period. At that time a large part of the eastern United States was occupied by an arm of the sea which extended northeastward from the Gulf of Mexico region into New York State. The eastern shore of the sea was not far east of the present line of the Blue Ridge and the Highlands of New Jersey and southeastern New York, and still farther east lay a great continent which extended an unknown distance into the area now occupied by the North Atlantic. The northern shore of the sea was somewhere near a line drawn from Albany through Syracuse, Rochester, and Buffalo. The present site of the Catskills was thus near the northeast end or head of this sea or gulf, with land not far away on the east and north.

"The sea teemed with life, almost wholly invertebrate animals and marine plants, and the larger part of the life appears to have inhabited the sea bottom. Brachiopods, though rare now, were very abundant then, and many other forms of animals crawled about or grew upon the sea floor. As the streams washed in sand and mud from the neighboring lands the sea gradually filled up and the shells of many brachiopods and other shell-bearing animals were thus buried in the sand and their form preserved till now. By slow upward movement of the crust the sea was drained from the region and the beds of sand and mud that had been hardened into sandstone and shale, were lifted thousands of feet above sea level to form a great low land. The Catskill Mountains have since been carved from this uplifted mass of rock through the cutting of valleys by the streams.

"As a rule none of the original material of the shells is preserved, having been dissolved away very long ago. The sand being closely compacted about the shells, their forms were preserved, however, as molds in the sandstone. Some of the molds have since been filled by calcite (calcium carbonate) which has crystallized from water that soaked through the rock, and thus casts were formed having the same shape as the original shells and consisting of similar material. The fact that few, if any, whole shells were preserved in this particular rock shows that, after the death of the animal which they belonged to, the shells were washed about by waves and currents and more or less broken up before being buried in the sand."

PLAIN USELESSNESS OF SO MANY OPINIONS

John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist church, referring to the controversies of his day, which was full of them, spoke as follows:

"I am sick of opinions; I am weary to hear them; my soul loathes the frothy food. Give me cold, substantial religion; give me a humble, gentle lover of God and a man full of mercy and good fruits—a man laying himself out in the work of faith, the labor of love, the patience of hope."

Quoting the above statement, the Columbus Journal remarks:

"Mr. Wesley expressed the right idea about the uselessness of so many opinions. There is one for every man alive. They seldom reach the truth because they are based upon individual standpoints which never give a whole or perfect view of the subject in controversy. And then mere opinions never settle anything. They only excite more opinions until the truth and the serene judgment are quite crushed out. We would just as lief run a foot race on a sleety day as to enter into controversy with a voluble antagonist."

APPLY THE DEMURRAGE LAW EQUITABLY TO ALL

"Most farmers ship more cars of freight than they receive," says a writer in Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published in Springfield, Ohio. "They ship bulky, low-grade freight, and they receive mostly, the high-grade package freight."

"Hence, the farmer is usually the sufferer when freight cars are tied up in the process of loading and unloading. We have had many periods of great car scarcity. But if every freight car could be loaded promptly when it is placed on the siding, and unloaded as quickly as the rules require, there would in all probability be plenty of available cars."

"We are all interested in keeping the freight cars moving. Let us not complain when we are charged a dollar a day for demurrage if we keep cars idle too long. If every shipper in the country is charged the dollar a day and made to pay it, we shall not hear so many complaints of farm products rotting along the tracks for want of cars."

"We should ask just one thing—that the demurrage law be applied with strictness to all shippers, without reference to their age, color or previous condition of servitude."

THRILLING STORY OF SHIPS RESCUE

Armenian Villagers Besieved 36 Days.

CHRISTIANS FIGHTING TURKS

Heroic Defense Against Big Odds—Sharpshooter Silenced a Battery.

RESCUED BY FRENCH WARSHIP

A thrilling story comes from Syria of the heroic defense and narrow escape of four thousand Armenian Christians, besieged for thirty-six days on Mount Moses by double their number of Mohammedans, and delivered at last by the timely arrival of a French cruiser. The people of six villages on the slopes of Monsa Dagh (Mt. Moses), in keeping with the Turkish policy of exterminating the Armenians, were ordered by the Turks to prepare for immediate deportation. Some of the villagers at once gave themselves up to the soldiers and were marched away. The majority, however, went up to the heights of the mountain, carrying arms, food, tools and their flocks of goats and sheep. Here they were promptly attacked and besieged. The story of the siege is told by a young Armenian pastor, Dikran Andreassian:

"The Turkish advance guard was two hundred regulars, and the captain boasted that he would clear the mountain in one day. But the Turks suffered casualties and were driven back. Returning for a more general attack, they dragged up two field guns, with which they soon secured the range and wrought havoc among us. One of our sharpshooters, a lion-hearted young fellow, crept down among the brushwood and rocks till within close range of the guns. With five bullets he picked off four gunners, without disclosing his location. The captain threw up his hands in dismay and retired."

After a good deal of fighting and some heroic deeds of defense on the part of the Armenians, the Turks gathered a force of eight thousand soldiers and civilians and laid siege to the mountain on its landward side. The supply of flour and cereals was speedily exhausted and for a month the people lived on meat, slaughtering goats and sheep. At length there was enough food left for only two weeks more.

Several efforts to get through the lines with appeals for help having failed, the Armenians turned toward the sea as the only hope of escape. Two immense flags were made, on one of which were embroidered in large, clear letters, "Christians in Distress, Rescue." The other carried a great red cross. These were elevated on tall saplings. The story of the coming of relief is thus told by Pastor Andreassian:

"One Sunday morning, the thirty-sixth day of our defense, a man came racing through our encampment. 'Pastor, pastor,' he exclaimed, 'a battleship is coming and has answered our waving! Thank God, our prayers are heard. They see us and are coming in nearer shore!'

"This proved to be the French cruiser Gulchen. While one of its boats was being lowered, some of our young men raced down to the shore and were soon swimming out to the stately vessel, which seemed to have been sent to us from God. Soon an invitation came from the captain for a delegation to come on board and narrate the situation."

Other French vessels were called by wireless, and the whole company, numbering 4,053, was taken off and carried to Port Said, Egypt, where they were cared for. The pastor's story concludes:

"We do not forget that our Savior was brought in his infancy to Egypt for safety and shelter. And the brethren of Joseph could not have been more grateful than we for the corn and wheat provided."

LEAP YEAR CHANCES.

Attention, Girls!
You can propose marriage every time you get a chance.
Don't hesitate on the score of propriety, as it is quite proper.

At any rate Miss Lucille Pugh, feminist, suffragist and lawyer, says so.

But—don't propose unless you are sure he will accept, even though it is Leap Year. And when you meet your ideal it may be well to get a report of a good commercial agency upon his rating. If this is satisfactory then—

"The question has already been asked me as to the advisability of girls proposing," said Miss Pugh. "Of course they should. All girls must look out for the future. The great trouble we lawyers find is that women are too impulsive with their affections."

"Look around you any day in the divorce courts, and see the number of women plaintiffs. That suggests to me that women are too glib in listening to the love songs of a fellow who hasn't got a nickel."

"Leap year, in my opinion, is the time for every woman to show her discretion in the selection of a husband, and I think if they do this you will find a decided change in the domestic condition of our homes."

NOTED MEDICINE MAN

INHALES DEADLY GAS

"Nobody Loves Me" His Last
Message—He Was Well Known Here.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 19.—Dr. W. Z. Moore, 45 years old, a prominent patent medicine manufacturer of Paducah, was found dead in his room in a boarding house here from gas poisoning this morning. Dr. Moore last night said to George Pursley, a friend who lodged in the house: "Nobody loves me. George, nobody cares for me."

Both gas jets were turned on full when the door was broken open today. Dr. Moore had three sons living at 265 Clements street, Paducah.

Family At Paducah.
Paducah, Ky., Jan. 19.—Dr. Moore was born in McDowell county, North Carolina, but moved to Glasgow Junction, Ky., in early manhood. He came to Paducah two years ago and had lived here since. His family, consisting of a wife and three children, remained in Paducah while he went about the country selling his herb medicines from automobiles and wagons.

Moore left Paducah on November 1, 1915, and had since been working out of Atlanta. His body will be shipped to Glasgow Junction for interment, according to his wife.

Well Known Here.
Editorial Note—Dr. Moore was well known in Hartford and surrounding country, as he has made a number of trips here, where he would have his medicine vehicle on the streets, selling his "Indian Herbs." He was here last summer with his negro comedian George and gave nightly performances on the streets. He was of a jolly temperament and about the last man anybody would pick to be a suicide victim.

Busy Mother.
"Please, Mrs. Brown," said the little girl from the house next door, "mother says would you be kind enough to come over and take care of baby for a little while?"
"Why, certainly," replied Mrs. Brown. "Is your mother ill?"
"No'm, but she's writing a paper on 'The Proper Care of Infants' and she's afraid she won't be able to get it done in time to read before the Mothers' Club to-morrow afternoon."

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr.
Hughes Would Die, But
One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit-taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

THE HARTFORD HERALD

SEDER MATTHEWS, FRANK L. PELIX,
EDITORS.
FRANK L. PELIX, Pub. and Prop'r

Entered at the Hartford post-office as mail matter of the second class.

Much of the furore that is being aroused in Congress nowadays against President Wilson's scheme of national preparedness is being done by men who seem to think that a million or two armed and trained men could be gotten together within a few hours' notice, and that we could repel an invasion with very little trouble or inconvenience. It takes years and much money to properly prepare for national defense. But the undertaking of it should be a matter of pride with every patriotic citizen.

And now they are even accusing the poor oyster of "drinking too much." Or rather they are accusing the dealer of making the oyster do this. It is said that if four quarts of fresh oysters and one quart of fresh but slightly salty water are put in a five-quart container and the mixture allowed to stand for several hours, the water will be "drank" or absorbed by the oysters, much to the profit of the retailer. People who practice this trick, however, are liable to come in conflict with the Pure Food and Drug Act.

Body life and soul life are two of the most precious things known to man. Often the life of the body is made a joy supreme at the risk of jeopardizing the interests of the soul life. We want to "live while we're living," evidently forgetting that when we die, we'll be dead a long while. The life of the body passes and is soon forgotten; the life of the soul lives on, both in its influence left behind and its fixity of fate in eternity. "Oh," says St. Augustine, "that we could rouse men to be such lovers of the life that abideth as men are of the life that fleeth."

Every year sees a big wrangle over the taxing matter in Kentucky. The "Board of Hesters" gets in its work, both county and State, and crowds of exasperated taxpayers appear before the Board to protest against what they consider to be exorbitant raises. It's an annual fuss and turmoil. Many bear their raises in silence rather than go through the "sweating" process. Of course all this is legal and, under our present taxing system quite necessary to provide adequate State revenues. But if the assessor got a man's list more carefully and correctly at the start, there would be less of it.

It is announced that the lunatic asylums of the State are so overcrowded with patients and that there is hardly room for more. The main cause for this is our very lax laws in regard to sending people to the State hospitals. The asylums constitute the great dumping-ground for poor, unfortunate humanity. Many people are "railroaded" to these institutions who are not crazy in the real sense, but are simply physically afflicted and helpless. Under our present law it is little trouble to send a person to an asylum. This law is a burning shame to the State and should be amended by our present Legislature.

It is estimated that fierce and uncontrolled temper, as manifested by human beings towards each other, has caused as much suffering and misery as any of the so-called social habits—not barring the drink evil. No doubt this is true. The harboring of grudges and family estrangements usually gets its start from some outburst of temper. The victims sometimes call it "pride" or "high spirit." That does not lessen its lasting influence for evil. These tempers and grudges are indulged sometimes for years by people—professed Christians, some of them—who imagine they are living high above any odium of "intemperance."

BROTHER PERKINS IS A STONE WALL FOR TEDDY

Were the Colonel not the wisest, the purest, the most patriotic, the most unselfish and the most truthful statesman ever, he would be unworthy of such a devoted meal ticket as George W. Perkins.

While some of the skunks and college slaves and milk-and-water pacifists of the Progressive Party are talking about Hughes or Borah or even La Follette, Brother Perkins is for the Colonel first, last and all the time. The Bull Moose Party was created to put the Colonel over. It had no other excuse, for existence, and it was for that delectable purpose that Brother Perkins paid the freight. For the party to quit without a last determined effort to land the Colonel at Chicago and thereby redeem the Republican Party from reaction, would be to give the lie to its holiest principles and lose all the money that Brother Perkins has invested, to say nothing of the contributions that he wrung from the emotional Frank Munsey.

The thing is unthinkable, and we are glad that Brother Perkins is standing by the Colonel and Armageddon in this business.—[New York World.]

FARMERS ARE URGED TO STAND FIRMLY TOGETHER

The article headed "Equity Society Condemns Board," on the second page of The Herald to-day, is a true and correct statement of affairs as they actually exist in the tobacco market and perhaps the same thing, or conditions on the same line, exist on other markets. We would be glad to have all the farmers who are willing to wrench themselves loose from such combinations, to meet with us at the court house in Hartford on January 27th at nine o'clock and let us talk over the proposition of getting together again, and freeing ourselves from the clutches of such combinations. It matters not what you belong to or what "views" may be, you are invited to be present and perhaps we can devise some means by which we can get together.

There will also be plans of a co-operative fire insurance by which we can get our insurance for less than half what it is now costing, and just as solid and good. Those who are wanting insurance can not afford to not inquire about this and it would be good for you to be present.

EUROPEAN WAR LOSSES
EXCEED 14,000,000 MEN

London, Jan. 23.—The gross casualties in the war up to the beginning of January exceed 14,000,000, according to the computations of a prominent statistician and student of war estimates.

The basis for the figures is official. The number of killed is estimated at one in every five, and prisoners taken average one in every seven or eight.

The expert's estimate of gross casualties suffered by each warring nation follows:
Russia, 4,000,000.
Germany, 4,000,000.
Austria-Hungary, 2,800,000.
France, 2,300,000.
Great Britain, 500,000.
Italy, 300,000.
Belgium, Serbia, Bulgaria and Turkey, 1,000,000.

Grand total, 14,960,000.

In the present war at least 21,000,000 men are under arms. Figures furnished by previous wars show that in the Balkan struggle of 1912-1913 350,000 men were killed out of 1,250,000 engaged. In the Russo-Japanese war 555,000 were killed out of 2,500,000 engaged.

FLOOD AND COLO HOLD
48 PEOPLE PRISONERS

For Two Weeks—Much Suffering Due To Severe Deprivation.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 22.—News has just reached this city of the terrible sufferings recently endured by families living in the lowlands on the Ohio river below Smith Mills. According to word from Smith Mills forty-eight persons have been living on what is known as Hatchett Mound, below that place, for two weeks, almost without food or fuel. Nineteen of that number are ill, suffering from colds and pneumonia brought on by the exposure.

While the thermometer was hovering close to the zero mark it was necessary for several families to remain in bed during the day in order to keep from freezing to death. The floods prevented anyone getting into communication with the outside world. The sick were compelled to go for the entire time without physician or medicine and with nothing to eat but cornbread.

J. H. Turner, a prominent farmer of Smith Mills, who went to his farm on what was known as Caney Mound in the bottoms several days ago, was marooned for two weeks, with nothing to eat but cornbread. With others from the lowlands he reached Smith Mills late this afternoon, bringing a report of the true conditions existing since the floods and cold weather set in.

Mr. Turner went to his farm to save some corn and other property and was unable to get back. His family thought nothing of his absence, as they were aware that he would be gone until his corn and property were safe from the floods.

Smith Mills people on learning of the conditions, made up a fund with which to buy fuel and food for those who were in need. Physicians were sent out from Smith Mills to care for the sick. A small amount of cash in the Smith Mills Bank, which had been left over from a relief fund raised during the high waters of 1913, was used in paying for coal and provisions sent to the scene of the suffering this afternoon.

RAILROADS CONDUCTED WITH A HUMANE SPIRIT

The article "Birds and The Railroads" in this issue reminds us of the birds along the Henderson Route. Most interesting it is to watch the birds get water at the railroad tank at Irvington, and to see them gather parties of food that have fallen from the freight cars near the Union Station in Louisville. Immediate interest is being expressed for the birds by the railroads and, we are glad to see that the Henderson Route is a benefit to our birds and careful of our dumb animals. Railroads are not only a benefit to humanity, but they are life-savers to the birds and dumb animals. Railroads are conducted by human beings and they make mistakes like all humans. If people would just think of the human side of the railroads, the people and patrons would fare better and we would have railroads run on higher planes.—[Breckenridge News.]

STREAM OF WATER THAT MAN CANNOT EVEN "DENT"

A factory in Grenoble, France, we are told, utilizes the water of a reservoir situated in the mountains at a height of 200 yards. The water reaches the factory through a vertical tube of the same length with a diameter of considerably less than an inch, the jet being used to move a turbine. Experiments have shown that the strongest men cannot cut the jet with the best tempered sword; and in some instances the blade has been broken into fragments without deflecting a drop of the water, and with as much violence as a pane of glass may be shattered by a blow from an iron bar. It has been calculated that a jet of water a small fraction of an inch in thickness, moving with sufficient velocity, could not be cut by a rifle bullet.

The engineers of some big water power projects of the Far West are willing to wager that a two-hundred-pound man, swinging a four-pound ax with all his might, cannot make a "dent" in the water as it emerges from the nozzle at the powerhouse. Burying an ax in a stream of water looks like child's play, and the average two-hundred-pound visitor is likely "to bite." He invariably loses. So great is the velocity of the water emerging from the nozzle in these modern power plants that an ax, no matter how keen its edge, is whirled from the hands of the axman as soon as it touches the water. The water travels under a pressure exceeding 500 pounds to the square inch in many instances, and no power on earth can turn it off at the nozzle, once it gains momentum. It has the same effect on one's fingers as a rough emery wheel, and will shave a plank with the nicety of a razor-edged plane.—[Popular Science Monthly.]

SHE PLUNGED SIXTEEN
STORIES—STILL LIVES

Chicago, June 24.—Miss Minnie B. Werner, a stenographer employed by the Railway Age Gazette, plunged from the sixteenth floor of the Transportation building, in Dearborn street, but still lives. Her fall was broken by an automobile truck loaded with paper boxes, but her skull was fractured and she was internally injured. Physicians at the hospital to which she was hurried said she probably would die.

An eye witness told the police that he saw the young woman raise the window and climb on the window ledge. The police said they believed that she jumped. She is twenty-four years old and had been employed by the publication for five years.

Last Friday she complained of illness and went home. Her employers said that they knew no reason why she should seek to end her life.

100-YEAR-OLD MOUNTAIN
WOMAN VICTIM OF GRIP

Whitesburg, Ky., Jan. 24.—"Aunt" Chrissie Stallard, the oldest woman in Eastern Kentucky, who has rounded out her 106th milestone at her home on Colly creek, near Hilliard, seven miles from here, in Letcher county, is dangerously ill. Several weeks ago "Aunt Chrissie," while doing chores about the place, fell and broke her left thigh, from which she has since been confined. Lately she is said to have developed grippe and her illness has become alarming. "Aunt Chrissie" often boasted of her long life of almost perfect health, having never been under the care of a physician. She has many relatives and descendants who are watching by the bedside at Hilliard. "Aunt Chrissie" has been living alone in her home since the death of her husband, "Uncle Jimmie" Hilliard, many years ago.

FORGIVES SONS WHO
PLOTED HIS DEATH

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Furman D. Updike, whose sons, Irving and Herbert, confessed to plotting to murder him a week ago, announced here after visiting them at the county jail that he had forgiven them and had hired a lawyer to defend them.

"I love you and your mother loves you," he is reported to have said to his sons. "It hurts us both to have you here. We would rather die than see you suffer harm, but you had better remain here until public attention is directed elsewhere. I have no resentment toward either of you."

High Price For Hemp.

Winchester, Ky., Jan. 24.—The largest hemp deal to be consummated in this section in many years was closed Saturday when Joe S. Lindsey, representing a number of Clark county farmers who had pooled their hemp, sold the product of 560 acres to E. F. Spears & Co., of Paris, for about $70,000. There were about 600,000 pounds of hemp in the pool the price received was 11½ cents per pound. A similar price was paid by Spears & Co. to R. S. Steele for forty acres of hemp.

This is about the highest price ever paid for hemp here, according to farmers.

It is understood more hemp will be raised this year than last.

Income Tax All Right.

The income tax was declared constitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States in a unanimous decision which swept aside every contention raised against it, and in the opinion of congressional leaders opened the way for increasing the tax rate on great fortunes to help carry out the national defense program.

Cattle Worth Money.

Will Willis sold a few days ago fifteen head of 2-year-old Hereford heifers to W. H. Dearborn, of Thomasville, Ga., for the Archibald ranch. Price $312.50 per head. Clinton county has the cattle—fine cattle and fat cattle as well.—[Clinton County Democrat.]

There were 230 deaths in Louisville the first half of January, the heaviest death rate on record.

DUNDEE.
Jan. 24.—La grippe is still plentiful. Several in bed.

Mr. Harvy Ward died near here Saturday night of old age, la grippe and other troubles. His wife died just a few years ago. He was one of the oldest men in this part of the county.

W. H. Acton and wife were married 62 years ago the 24th of this month and still live in the same house they went to housekeeping in. They are getting very feeble. Mr. Acton was 81 years old last November and his wife is just a few years younger. They have seven children living and two dead. He has never failed to vote the Democratic ticket since he was 21 years of age.

Seems like our little town is still in mourning and sadness over the death of our townsman and neighbor, S. J. Weller.

The roads are getting very bad and still people have to haul coal a long distance.

H. C. Acton went to see his mother and father at ———, last Sunday. They are in poor health.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.
To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any drugstore can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and removes dandruff. It is excellent for falling hair and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.

"OHIO COUNTY, KY.," IS A VERY SACRED MEMORY

King, Ark., Jan. 23, 1918.

Editors Herald:—In 1875 I bade adieu to my old childhood home and old schoolmates and I sometimes think of the happy hours I spent with them. I often wonder where they are or what has become of them. It was in old Ohio county in the early part of the fifties I was born. While I have spent these long years away from that place so dear to me, yet there is a sacredness in the very name, "Ohio county, Kentucky." That name will be dear to me as long as life lasts. My relatives are there. I have been negligent in writing back to neighbors, relatives and friends, but if the editors of The Herald will be kind enough to publish this, it may reach some one who thinks enough of me to drop a card to me and by this means renew our old acquaintance. My old home was in what is known

Mr. Estlin Barnett left yesterday for Nashville, Tenn., where he will probably engage in the phosphate industry with his brother-in-law, Mr. E. W. Cooper.

Supt. Ozna Shults and wife are the proud parents of the fifth son who put in his appearance last Friday morning. They now have five pairs to draw to, having five sons and five daughters.

Mr. G. B. Likens, Special Deputy Banking Commissioner, now in charge of the Dundee Deposit Bank's affairs, spent yesterday in Hartford looking up some matters pertaining to the bank's affairs.

The well known show people Gormand-Ford Co. will be in Hartford next week with a good show at Dr. Bean's Opera House each night, beginning on Monday, January 31. Don't miss these shows. If you do you will regret it. They will put on "The Missouri Girl," "Tempest and Sunshine," "St. Elmo" and other equally as attractive plays during the week at Dr. Bean's Opera House.

Rev. Samuel E. Harlan, formerly of Morton's Gap, Ky., has been called to the pastorate of the First Christian Church of Hartford and will preach his first sermon here on his new charge the third Sunday in February. He will continue to preach on the third Sunday morning and night, with a like service at Beaver Dam the second Sunday in each month.

Friends of Miss Minnie Renfrow, who formerly lived here, will be glad to learn that she has recently been appointed private secretary to W. J. Goode, secretary of the Kentucky State Fair Association, at a salary of $1,000 a year.

Ladies, don't fail to take advantage of the free ticket proposition offered by the Gormand-Ford Co. at their opening play "Lena Rivers," at Dr. Bean's Opera House next Monday night. Get busy and get one 25-cent paid ticket, and the other is yours free.

Everybody remembers how they enjoyed the Gormand-Ford Co. when here before. They are better prepared than ever to give you a first-class entertainment. Go and hear them. Remember the dates—each night next week, beginning with Monday, January 31.

Mr. Simpson Johnson, Hartford, Route 3, passed through Hartford Monday enroute to Jonesville, Ky., where he will make his home with his widowed sister in the future. We regret to see Mr. Johnson leave Ohio county. The best wishes of all accompany him. Before leaving Mr. Johnson extended his Herald subscription a year.

After an illness of several days of pneumonia, Mr. Aron Stalworth died at his residence about two miles east of town last Wednesday evening. He was a carpenter by trade and well liked by all who knew him. He was 64 years old at the time of his death and leaves a wife and four children. Funeral services were held at the family residence Thursday afternoon, after which the remains were interred in Oakwood cemetery.

The Rheldaffer-Sklbinsky musical entertainment at College Hall last Thursday night was splendid in every feature and lovers of high class music received a rare treat. Madam Rheldaffer has an entrancing soprano voice of wonderful control and power. Alexander von Sklbinsky showed himself master of the violin in the highest sense of the word. Harold A. Loring at the piano was perfect in his renditions and evinced very exceptional talent. The entertainment embraced one of the best and most pleasing numbers in the whole lyceum course.

Notice To Teachers.

Please don't forget to have your pupils that are prepared, take the examination on Friday and Saturday, the 28th and 29th of January. For the convenience of different sections of the county the examination will be held at Hartford, Fordsville, Rockport and Centertown.

OZNA SHULTS, S. S. O. C.

Held to Answer.

In the matter of the Com'th. vs. Joe Tate and James P. Taylor, of Beaver Dam, wherein they were arrested charged with grand larceny, the examining court, Judge Jno. B. Wilson, after hearing the evidence, held each of the defendants to answer to the coming February term of the grand jury in the sum of $250 each and each was permitted to go on his own recognizance, and the witnesses were recognized in the sum of $50 for their appearance before the grand jury. The writs which charged the same offense were issued on the oath of W. E. Dunn, of Cromwell.

It seems that Dunn came to Beaver Dam Thursday or Friday and as an accommodation brought $89 in checks for a friend at Cromwell to be cashed. After cashing the checks it is said Dunn got too much "booze" and in the meantime lost his money and separate writs were issued charging the above named defendants with getting the money, all of which they deny.

SPECIAL JUDGE SITTING AT CALHOUN THIS WEEK

The January term of the McLean Circuit Court will be concluded this week. Most of the cases set for hearing will be tried before special Judge Read, who was designated in a number of cases in which regular Judge Slack is of counsel and disqualification. Judge Read convened court at Calhoun on Monday.

Judge Slack finished up the work of the criminal division last Friday and discharged the petit jury.

George Norris, colored, was given a fine of $50, ten days in jail and disfranchised for two years for carrying concealed weapons.

M. E. Walker, charged with deserting an infant child, was released from jail under a $100 bond to appear at the next term for trial.

Arthur Haffey was given a sentence of two years in the penitentiary for housebreaking. Barney Woods, alias Barney Starling, who was charged with the same offense, was cleared and released from jail. Charles King and Sam Ball were brought from the penitentiary at Eddyville to testify against Woods and Haffey.

Everett Crunk, Ashton Lawton and Roy Miller were each fined $100 and costs for unlawfully taking property without felonious intent.

THREE MEN CAME NEAR DEATH IN ICY WATERS

Messrs. T. F. Tanner, H. E. and A. D. Milligan, who live near Heflin, this county, had a very narrow escape from drowning last Friday. They had been across the bottoms, which were frozen over, to Woodward's Valley church to attend the funeral of Mr. Frank Chinn. They returned the way they went, but in the meantime a slight thaw had come and the ice was rotten. They were all plunged into water over their heads, where they fought for life for a long while. Every time they crawled upon the ice it would give way and they would clutch out for another feeble support. They had some small pieces of boards with them, which were of considerable assistance. They were so numbed by the icy water that they made slow progress.

Finally, by patient endeavor and almost at the point of giving up, they managed to worm their way across the ice to safety. But it was an experience none of them will ever forget. Mr. A. D. Milligan was the greatest sufferer of the three.

W. H. Ward Dead.

W. H. Ward died at his residence at Sunnydale, this county, last Sunday. After funeral services at the Christian church, Taylor Old Fields, Monday morning at 11 o'clock, his remains were buried in the church burying grounds there. The deceased had been a member of the Christian church for 25 years. He was 75 years old the 10th day of last November and was the father of 13 children—9 girls and 4 boys. He was well liked by everybody.

Fiscal Court in Session.

The Ohio County Fiscal Court convened in court hall last Monday morning in an adjourned session, with Esq. S. L. Fulkerson, R. C. Tichenor, Ed Shown, Ben W. Taylor, W. S. Dean, B. F. Rice, Winslow Smith, S. W. Leach, Judge Jno. B. Wilson and County Attorney C. M. Crowe present.

The entire court was entertained at dinner by Sheriff S. O. Keown and wife yesterday. It goes without saying that they fared sumptuously. They were likewise entertained in a body last night at the Star Theater by invitation of the manager, Mr. E. G. Barras. The court will likely get through with its business this morning.

Charles Arnold Dead.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 22.—Charles Arnold, 52 years old, a former railroad man who lived at Central City, died this afternoon at St. Joseph's Hospital of paralysis. He came to this city as a witness in an alleged "possum hunting" case. He is survived by two daughters at Central City. The body will be sent there.

ROCKPORT.

Jan. 22.—Green river has subsided to within its banks, the first time in about six weeks.

Mr. L. F. Harrel, of Grenada, Miss.; Mrs. Mattie Gamble, of Henderson, and Mrs. Alma Tifford, of Cernivo, Ky., were called to the bedside of their mother, Mrs. M. J. Harrel, who is dangerously ill.

The remains of Mrs. Minerva Robertson, who died at Hopkinsville yesterday, arrived this morning, and will be buried at the Rockport cemetery this evening.

Trey Haden arrived this week from St. Francis River, Ark., where he has been working for a cotton dealer. He says the cotton in the South is about all sold off the plantations.

Mr. A. E. Jennings, of Central City, Ky., is here in the interest of a tile factory to be located in Rockport. If there can be interest created in the enterprise by the citizens here.

Dayton Nickols, who was seriously hurt in the mines here last week, is thought to be improving, and has a good chance to get through.

Mr. Paul Hester, of Nelson, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Doh last Sunday.

Rev. Nibbs Elford, of Louisville, at the invitation of the Rockport church, preached at the Rockport church last Sunday evening. He is a native of Kentucky, and has been a member of the Rockport church for many years. He is a member of the Southern Methodist Church, and is a member of the Rockport church. He is a member of the Rockport church.

THE KOREAN RELIGION
A VERY TRAGIC JOKE

Many Spirits Worshipped In Various Ways, But None In Truth.

"Korea may well be classed with Athens as a land with many gods," says Missionary L. T. Newland, of the Southern Presbyterian Church. "And the Koreans, like the old Athenians, ignorantly worship the 'Unknown God,' for they have a dim knowledge of a supreme being who created all things, who gives the rains and the harvests. But, like the deists, they claim he made all things and then gave over the running of affairs to various spirits, who must be worshipped and placated. Especially is this true of the malign spirits who are constantly interfering with and opposing the work of the good spirits. Therefore the Korean argues that the good ones will help anyway because they are good, and that you need only bribe the various forms of malign devils to gain a great victory. As a result, their worship consists in the main of an entire neglect of the one and many sacrifices to the others."

"But I have found in the little time that I have been here that the Korean has no deep-rooted religion of any sort, but is as changeable as the surface of the sea. If a man worships beneath a certain tree and then has a son born in his house, the whole village will flock to that spot until another villager finds that a certain rock is lavish with blessings, and then the tree is deserted and the rock is the popular idol for a season. Their worshippers will not be put off with promises. To speak in the vernacular, the spirit must deliver the goods, to be popular. So it is not uncommon for a man to go the rounds of ancestor worship, emperor worship, mountain spirits, tree spirits, the elements, devil posts and Buddhism, to make sure of his blessing. In fact, I do not believe you can put your finger on any one religion and say that it is peculiar to Korea. The people mix them all up and give them all a chance. They are polytheists with a vengeance."

"The truth is, the Korean is of such a happy-go-lucky disposition that he does no worshipping of any particular sort except on stated occasion or in times of need or danger. One man puts out a dish of rice for the mountain spirit and the next hungry man that comes along eats it. They put small pieces of money in straw manikins and these are put out along fields or in front of the houses as a gift to the spirits, but when their backs are turned the proverbial small boy slips up and steals it. Their religion is such a mixture and held with so little seriousness as to be a joke, were their condition not so tragic."

TO MAKE BOOTLEGGING
A FELONY NOW THE AIM

Representative Lee's bill, which he is going to introduce in the House this week to make bootlegging a felony for the second offense, is a righteous measure which should appeal to every citizen who favors the enforcement of law. A bill of a similar character passed the Lower House of the last Legislature and would have passed the Senate if it had come to a vote. The character of people who are setting at defiance the prohibition law adopted by a vote of the people, by bootlegging whiskey are, generally speaking, the offscourings of creation. They are entirely destitute of both morals and character. They are as a rule worthless, trifling scoundrels who are too lazy to work and eke out an existence by peddling whiskey in the alleys and the dark corners of the towns, and their customers, as a rule, are a pretty low class of people. Sending the bootlegger to jail is no disgrace to him, nor is it really any punishment.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is like a rubber tube which has been plugged with cotton, or like a steam pipe which is choked with soot, or like a chimney which is filled with smoke. The inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored. Deafness is caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free. J. C. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists. ment. As soon as he gets out he goes back in the business if he can raise a stake to buy a supply of his slow poison. If the second offense is made a felony it will either deter the bootlegger from committing the crime the second time, or else it will rid the community of a bad character by putting him to work in a convict gang on the public roads. The law endeavors to protect society by making a punishment which will fit the crime and will either act as a deterrent or make the convicted man unwilling to repeat the lawless act when his term of prison confinement expires. The present punishment of bootleggers does neither of these, so the law should be amended as Mr. Lee's bill provides. The good people of every "dry" county are entitled to the kind of protection this law would afford.—[Elizabethtown News.]

BE ENERGETIC,
NOT LAZINESS

Medical Authority Tells What This Condition Really Means.

"When you are languid and listless, or lack ambition and feel so melancholy that life seems scarcely worth the living, it is absolutely necessary that you take treatment to correct these sub-normal conditions, because you are suffering from derangements of a vital organ," declares one of the greatest medical authorities.

That "tired feeling" means a good deal more than is generally realized. It is not laziness; it is a physical ailment that needs correction quickly before it becomes even more serious by taking a firm hold on you.

Throw off that nervous depression. It is your duty.

Tanlac, the tonic, appetizer and invigorant, that builds new tissues, vitalizes the blood and acts so favorably on ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys and catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes, is designed especially to correct these conditions. The results of the Tanlac treatment are amazing. It tends to put you back in body and mind like those old-fashioned but most sensible folks, the pioneers, and to make you sturdy and of real manhood and womanhood.

Men and women, from the highest to the lowest walks of life, everywhere are testifying to the relief Tanlac has brought them. No other remedy has ever won such great endorsements that can only come from superlative merit.

Tanlac may now be obtained in Hartford at the Ohio County Drug Co.'s drug store, L. C. Morton & Son, Centertown, Z. Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam, where it is being fully explained to all questioners. —[Advertisement.]

Tidying the Solution. If every member of every congregation in the majority of the larger cities of our country were to decide to abide by old law and give one-tenth of their income, in twelve months there would be no such thing as a church debt or a missionary deficit, or an unanswered appeal for charity, or unpaid church bill, or an over-worked preacher, or a neglected widow and orphan in all of the broad land. And it is more than probable that in one more year the churches would have to begin to lengthen their cords and strengthen their stakes in order to make right and true use of the resources at their command, and all this wonderful condition would be brought about by christian men and women doing just the least that was asked of them under the old law.

The Gist Of It.

"Last December I had a very severe cold and was nearly down sick in bed. I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a very few days until I was completely restored to health," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. If you would know the value of this remedy, ask any one who has used it. Obtainable everywhere. —[Advertisement.]

According To Habit.

William J. Burns, the famous detective, tells of once putting two burglars through the "third degree." Finally after the leader had confessed, he loudly made this resolution:

"Self-me boss, it's the last time I'll ever go in with an ex-plumber. That guy always came off without the tools!"

THE TWO KINGDOMS.

Each man a kingdom may possess;
 May play the monarch's role;
 And his the kingdom is no less
 Than that of mind and soul;
 Each man, of course, must make his own,
 And therein must live, too,
 And my his kingdom he is known—
 What kind, good sir, have you?

A poor man's kingdom rich may be;
 A rich man's kingdom, poor;
 And even through eternity
 Some kingdoms may endure;
 Their subjects are kind acts and deeds,
 Good words, and heart-thoughts true—
 What monarch better subjects needs?
 What kind, good sir, have you?

Some kingdoms which more pompous are,
 And full of brazen show,
 Are emptier and poorer far
 Than those that kindness know!
 At last to dead sea fruit they turn;
 Become as bitter rue,
 Dead ashes in the funeral urn—
 What kind, good sir, have you?

WHAT THE RAILROAD
REPORTS ARE TELLING

Only one railroad, an unimportant one, reported a decrease in either gross or net earnings for last November as compared with November, 1914. Some of the most important ones, including the Pennsylvania and New York Central, more than doubled their net receipts. December promises to make an even better showing. As far as reported, the gross receipts of the railroads were one-third greater than in December, 1914, when there was a heavy movement of grain.

This season the farmers have sold wheat freely at remunerative prices. In the Northwest and the Canadian provinces the movement has been very heavy, as railroad and elevator reports show. In 1914 spring wheat did not turn out well, though winter wheat was better than ever. These early deliveries in the spring wheat States and Provinces are reflected in the increased earnings of the three Canadian railroads, and in the Northwestern group on this side of the line. The farmers have money to spend all over the country, and this makes the westward movement of merchandise almost as heavy as the eastward flow of commodities.

Railroad reports tell the story of business that has been done. Production of staple merchandise has not kept pace with consumption, and prices are rising while wages are going up. The Census Bureau's report on domestic consumption of cotton prove that the cotton mills are busier than ever, though an occasional mill is heard in New England. If that section was not prosperous and doing business at the old stand the New Haven Railroad would not be congested with freight and forced to declare an embargo on some shipments. In that also railroad reports tell the story of business conditions. —[New York Commercial.]

For Rheumatism.

As soon as an attack of rheumatism befalls apply Sloan's Liniment. Don't waste time and suffer unnecessary agony. A few drops of Sloan's Liniment on the affected parts is all you need. The pain goes at once. A grateful sufferer writes: "I was suffering for three weeks with chronic rheumatism and stiff neck. Although I tried many medicines, they failed, and I was under the care of a doctor. Fortunately I heard of Sloan's Liniment and after using it three or four days am up and well. I am employed at the biggest department store in S. F. where they employ from six to eight hundred hands, and they surely will hear all about Sloan's Liniment." —[H. B. Smith, San Francisco, Cal., Jan., 1915.] At all druggists. —[Advertisement.]

Italy Suffers For Coal.

Rome, January 22.—In spite of the cold weather Italy is a country almost without coal fires.

The only smoke to be seen is that from railroad locomotives, factories and a few hotels. The peasants in the mountains and the poor of the cities are able to make a few fires of wood, but coal is beyond the reach of any except the most wealthy. American coal lies unsold at the seaports.

On account of high freights anthracite costs more than $40 a ton.

KENTUCKY'S ROAD COMMISSIONER

Robert C. Terrell Has Successfully Put State Good Road Laws Into Operation

HEAD OF STATE DEPARTMENT

Called From the Chair of Rural and Highway Engineering of State University by Governor McCrory—Great Work Accomplished During the Past Three Years in Blue Grass State.

Frankfort.—Kentucky's Road Commissioner, Robert C. Terrell, who has successfully put into operation the good roads laws of Kentucky and for the past three years has been the head of the road department, was born near Bedford, Trimble county, Kentucky, in 1884. After finishing the common school of that county, he entered the State University of Kentucky and graduated from that institution in 1908, receiving the degree of bachelor of engineering, and was given the master's degree in civil engineering in 1908.

Immediately after receiving his degree in 1908, he took charge of the location of the Duck Fork extension of the Louisville & Atlanta railway, now a portion of the L. & N. system. In addition to locating the road, Mr. Terrell mapped and opened up a large coal field for the Kentucky River Coal & Coke Co., which was afterwards leased by the Big Hill Coal Co. of Pennsylvania. In June, 1907, after completing the work with the Kentucky River Coal & Coke Co., Mr. Terrell was employed by the Arkansas, Louisiana & Gulf Railway at Hamburg, Arkansas, as assistant engineer on twenty miles of construction, where he remained until its completion in the summer of 1908.

ROBERT C. TERRELL
Kentucky Road Commissioner.

Through Mr. Terrell's influence with the Board of Trustees of the State University of Kentucky, there was established the chair of rural and highway engineering in the Department of Civil Engineering of that institution. He was unanimously chosen professor of that chair. He immediately began the campaign to secure not only the undergraduate students in the course, but also arranged to have the practical road builders of the state to take short courses and attend lectures during the winter season. The course grew very popular, and many students were enrolled in both the two and four-year courses for undergraduate students and large numbers of the county road men, as well as the county judges and magistrates matriculated for the lecture courses.

In 1912, when the Department of Public Roads was established by the General Assembly, Governor McCrory called Mr. Terrell from the chair of rural and highway engineering of State University of Kentucky and appointed him the first Commissioner of Public Roads of Kentucky. Mr. Terrell assumed his duties on July 1, 1912, and has untiringly given his time and attention to the upbuilding of the road system of the state. Through his efforts and the showing made by the department prior to the meeting of the General Assembly of 1914 was made possible the passage of the state aid road laws in Kentucky, which provide for intercounty seat system of highways and a five-cent tax, together with the license tax on automobiles to be spent for the construction of the state system of highways, the state paying one-half the cost and the county one-half the cost of such improvement.

Mr. Terrell, through his splendid corps of assistants and thorough organization, has had active supervision and charge of the preparation of the plans, specifications and estimates of cost and actual construction of more than one thousand miles of road, and has thoroughly demonstrated to the citizens of the Commonwealth of Kentucky the advantage of having roads constructed on scientific principles, and has made popular the new road laws and has been successful in securing the co-operation of the county officials throughout the state.

Mr. Terrell, when interviewed on the subject, stated he was well pleased with the success of the new road laws, and that a good showing had been made this year, and that fully fifty per cent more work would be accomplished during the year 1916, as the present state has already signified its intention of taking their part of the state aid fund for the coming year, and many more counties are preparing to vote bond issues. —Associated Press, Nashville, Tenn., November 14.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

Ohio Circuit Court, Kentucky.
C. L. Webster, Plaintiff,
vs.
G. B. Foreman, et al., Defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Ohio Circuit Court, rendered at the October term, 1915, in the above cause for the sum of $225.00, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the 23d day of April, 1913, until paid and costs herein, I will offer for sale by public auction at the court house door in Hartford, on Monday, the 7th day of February, 1916, about one o'clock p. m., upon a credit of six and twelve months, the following described property, to-wit:

A tract of land in Ohio county, Kentucky, bounded as follows: Beginning at a gum and two hickories, N. W. corner to L. Cobb's land; thence W. 23 poles to a black oak in John Robertson's line and corner to James Free and corner to lot No. 5; thence N. 127 poles to a stone and walnut on the Huff Creek and Pattiesville road; thence with said road N. 45 poles to a stone in F. M. Wilson's line; thence N. 44 1/2 poles to a stone and sassafras in F. M. Bailey's line; thence E. 63 poles to a stone in the original line; thence S. 171 1/2 poles to the beginning, containing thirty-seven acres, more or less.

The above boundary is recorded in Deed Book No. 19, page 182, Ohio County Clerk's office, being the same land conveyed by C. L. Webster, et al., to G. B. Foreman by and dated April 23, 1913, and of record in Ohio County Clerk's office, Deed Book —, page —, or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money ordered to be made.

The purchaser will be required to execute bond with approved security immediately after sale.

This 15th day of January, 1916.

Master Commissioner's Sale.
Ohio Circuit Court, Kentucky.
Ernest Wilson, et al., Plaintiffs,
vs.
Mary Wilson, et al., Defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Ohio Circuit Court, rendered at the June term, 1915, in the above cause for the sum of $462, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the 4th day of December, 1909, until paid, and costs herein, I will offer for sale by public auction at the court house door in Hartford, on Monday, the 7th day of February, 1916, about one o'clock p. m., upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Certain tracts of land in Ohio county, Kentucky, bounded as follows: Beginning at a beech and hoop ash about 40 poles below the mouth of Caney creek, on the north side of Rough creek; thence up the same with its meanders to Samuel Crawford's lower corner on Rough creek, being two beeches; thence with Crawford's line N. 20 E. 22 poles to an ash and beech on bank of a gutter; thence N. 30 W. 69 poles to two beeches; thence W. to a stake in one of the original lines of the 3,000 acre survey; thence S. to the beginning. Being the same premises conveyed to Pinkney Petty by James Fitzhugh by a certain bond dated May 17, 1853, and assigned to Ansel Wilson by Pinkney Petty on May 15, 1878. Neither said bond or assignment are of record; the said party of the first part claiming said land by open, notorious, actual, adverse, peaceable possession since the year 1878.

Also another tract or parcel of land lying and being in Ohio county, Kentucky, on the north side of Rough Creek near the mouth of Caney creek and known as the Pate land and bounded and described as follows: On the North by the lands of Calvin Davidson; on the South by the tract of land hereinbefore described, which is known as the Fitzhugh land, cornering on Rough creek; on the East by the lands of Thomas Smith, and on the West by the lands of Ed Davidson, containing 30 1/2 acres, more or less. Being the same premises conveyed to Ansel Wilson by John P. Barrott, Master Commissioner of the Ohio Circuit Court by deed dated June 17, 1886, and of record in Commissioner's Deed Book "C", page 466, Ohio County Court Clerk's office.

Also another tract or parcel of land in Ohio county, Kentucky, lying on the south side of the Hartford and Hardinsburg road and bounded as follows: Beginning at a stone, corner to land of F. M. Duncan and in line of Cal Davidson; thence S. 87 1/2 E. 18 poles to an ash; thence S. 36 E. 17 1/2 poles to a beech, Ansel Wilson's corner; thence with Thomas J. Smith's line to the Hartford and Hardinsburg road; thence with said road westward to line of F. M. Duncan; thence south with F. M. Duncan's line to the beginning. Being same land conveyed to Ansel Wilson by F. M. Duncan and wife by deed dated November 13, 1907, and of record in Deed Book 37, page 315, Ohio County Court Clerk's office.

The purchaser will be required to execute bond with approved security immediately after sale.

So Friendly.

The women who called just because they couldn't get out of it were met at the door by the maid. "My mistress is taking her beauty sleep," she said. "How long does it take her?" asked one of the women. "Oh, less than half an hour." "She looks it," said the other woman in a whisper to her friend. Then they left their cards and trotted along.

AMBITIONS ARE BURIED IN WASHINGTON CITY

Once a Man Is Located There, He Is Evidently Compelled to Stay.

"The executive departments of Washington are the mausoleums of countless ambitions," observed former Representative Robert P. Hill, of Marion, Ill., at the Shoreham. "My advice to any young man of ambition is to stay away from Washington unless he relinquishes all hope. One might almost place above the doors of every department in Washington this sign, 'All young men who enter here leave hope behind.'"

"There is just one advantage that the executive departments hold for young men—that is, to give the struggling youth without funds enough money and leisure to gain an education. Unfortunately, however, the great majority of young fellows who start out with the intention of getting an education and then quitting, get married, change their minds, lose courage and stay. In a few isolated instances the departments offer chances to enter a broader field, but these instances are rare. I have known men in one or two branches of the Government who have won reputations in special lines and now draw big salaries as counsel for large corporations.

"But for the most part the young man who goes into the Government service, however strong may be his intention to get out at the end of a certain period, stays and stays, until at last his ambition dies of dry rot and then he himself dies.

"I know a man in one of the departments whose native ability would qualify him for any position in the Government service up to a Cabinet officer who is drawing the meager salary of $2,000 a year as a law clerk. He lived in my neighborhood as a youth, was graduated as a lawyer, built up a practice that won him a reputation outside of his own community and was in fair way to become a leading lawyer of the State. He was the superior of any lawyer in his county, and had a wonderful faculty for trying cases. He got a job in Washington as a law clerk, and accepted it for what he thought would be a short time. His associates of former days are now among the leading men in their profession, and some are on the bench. Nearly all are worth lots of money. He has just enough to live on, and his ambition is dead and buried in one of the departmental here."

THE STRANGEST TOWN IN THE UNITED STATES

Perched on the top of a great rock in the neighborhood of 300 feet high, stands Acoma, in some respects the strangest village in this country. Acoma is an Indian settlement of some 600 people, and means "The People of the Rock." Though the founding of the village is lost in the mist of antiquity, it is supposed the Acoma Indians chose this site as a measure of safety against the warlike Apaches and Navajos of their own day. Their selection was made with admirable judgment, for the walls of the rock are almost perpendicular. The earliest Spanish explorers found the tribe settled securely in their natural fortress. Acoma has remained delightfully untouched by the influences of Spanish and American civilization. These Indians are quite well-to-do in sheep and cattle, which are pastured on the grazing lands of the valley, where summer villages are located and where the minimum of effort is required to care for the flocks and herds. Although less than 20 miles from a railroad, the village is comparatively unknown. The natives do not care for curious visitors. They do not wish to be stared at and photographed. Nevertheless, the irrepressible tourist with his camera occasionally sales the steeply that baffled the Navajo. Nowadays, it is no longer practicable to suppress him with a tomahawk, so the Acoma are philosophically making the best of a bad job by collecting $2 a day for a camera license. The gray adobe village peers from its eyrie over miles of Arizona plain, dancing in the glare of a burning sun, broken only by the sheer outlines of buttes and mesas.—[Argonaut.

It Does.

Pa—(Rolling up sleeves)—There are a good many methods of punishing small boys! Bobbie—Yes, Pa, but spanking takes the palm.

Gets Entirely Lost.

"Buying on margin, a little money will go a long way in the stock market." "Yes; it frequently gets so far you never see it again."

FAITH.

A man's faith in himself is his most exclusive possession. While it may be quite true that faith will move mountains, it is also quite true that it will not move an automobile or a creditor.

Those men who try faith in place of elbow-grease, know a great deal more about rubber heels than rubber tires.

A baby keeps its faith in mankind until someone comes in late with its bottle.

When the average human reaches the age of 30, his faith in others is about as life-like as a stuffed fish.

We read a great deal of "child-like faith"—yet most children hide their treasures in the darkest corner of the attic.

Man's faith in the other chap is in indirect ratio to the size of the dividend paid by Padlock and Bonding Companies.

And yet, but for faith, the subway and the wooden streets of New York City would be about as popular as a fertilizer plant.

Preachers who can speak most powerfully on the subject of faith, can also speak most powerfully on the subject of having their contracts as to remuneration signed in advance.

Faith is such a scarce article that any man who possesses a fair amount of it is apt to find that his friends have applied to the Courts for the appointment of a committee to take care of his property.—[Judge.

SPECIAL NOTICE

In regard to OBITUARIES, RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT, &c.

The Hartford Herald has adopted a new rule in regard to Obituaries, Resolutions of Respect, Cards of Thanks, &c., whether written personally or for lodges, churches or individuals, and that is, we shall charge at the rate of five cents per line for all such articles, except obituary poetry, which will be one cent per word straight.

The amount, in cash or stamps, must accompany each article, or it will not be printed. Six words average a line in ordinary reading and every separate character or initial letter counts as a word. The heading and the signature both count one line each, even if they are only a word or two. All obituary poetry, straight through, one cent per word. This ruling applies to everybody alike, without any distinction.

Contributors please remember.

OVERWORKED MOTHER

Finds Health In Our Vinol
Collinsville, Ill.—"I suffered from a nervous break-down and terrible headaches, and was tired all over, totally worn out and discouraged but as I had a large family I had to work despite my suffering. I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it, and within two weeks I noticed a decided improvement, and now I am a well woman."—Mrs. ANA BECKER.

We guarantee Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, to strengthen and build up weak, run-down, overworked mothers.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD.

Practically a daily at the price of a weekly. No other newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

There has never been a time when a newspaper was more needed in the household. The great war in Europe has now entered its second year, with no promise of an end for a long time. These are world-shaking events, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, has been compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

The Presidential contest also will soon be at hand. Already candidates for the nomination are in the field, and the campaign, owing to the extraordinary character of the times, will be of supreme interest. No other newspaper will inform you with the promptness and cheapness of the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hartford Herald both one year for only $1.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

Just think of it! Four papers a week, one year, for only $1.65.
